We will answer the inquiry about the progress of the case against the former owners of the Sun by stating that it is before the superior court of Monterey county awaiting a date for trial. We have no anxiety about the outcome since we have ample evidence to support our case.

Until the case is settled, however, it does not appear expedient to install a linotype and other equipment necessary for us to resume the regular size of the paper.

We have received considerable encouragement to go on with the Sun. Having demonstrated that we can and do provide a local paper that wins public favor, financial support has been vouchsafed and it is entirely probable that The Sun will continue to shine forth, and with renewed brightness, after the clouds have rolled away.

Legion Warns Against Communism

Everyone in the large assemblage at Sunset school auditorium Friday night must have gained fresh courage and inspiration from the splendid patriotic program carried out under the auspices of the American Legion. Particularly helpful must it have been to the young people, to listen to the sound doctrine of democracy upon which the foundations of our beloved United States rests, and to be warned against the insidious propaganda of communism and fascism that is being spread altogether too daringly among the younger generation.

Warning against communistic activities sounded by Lieut. Gov. George J. Hatfield, the principal speaker; and Byington Ford and Senator E. H. Tickle, were particularly timely in Carmel, where people have been altogether too tolerant of red influences in operation, influences in fact that have become so far reaching that elsewhere in the state Carmel is often pointed to as a hotbed of radicalism.

An outstanding number on the program was the address by Edgar Leslie, Sunset school student, on "Contributions of American Youth to Democracy."

Major Chester A. Shepard, Americanism chairman of Carmel Post was chairman of the evening and the program was arranged by O. W. Bardarson, principal of Sunset school.

A delightful feature was the presentation of an American flag to the school, with the presentation address by Mrs. Daisy B. Taylor, retiring member of the Sunset school board of trustees.

BENEFIT BRIDGE PARTY

A bridge party will be given on Monday, March 25, at 2 o'clock at the Girl Scout House under the auspices of the Woman's Club and the Girl Scouts. Proceeds from the afternoon will be equally divided between the two organizations. Single tickets for the game will be 50 cents. A table for four can be reserved for $2. Tea will be served without extra charge after the game. Membership in the Woman's club is not necessary to attend the party. All are welcome. It is noted that all friends of the two organizations will make note of the date and come for an enjoyable afternoon of bridge and tea. Reservations should be made with Mrs. Johnson, telephone 1166. Those wishing to come at 4:00 o'clock for tea only, can do so by paying 25 cents.

CARMEL WOMAN'S CLUB

Section meetings for the third week in March will be as follows: The Book Section will have its second meeting for the month on Wednesday, March 20, at 10 a. m. at the Girl Scout House. Mrs. Margaret Grant will review "The Life of Oliver Cromwell," by Buchan.

The Garden Section will meet on Thursday, March 21, at the home of Miss Harriet Pierce, Lincoln and Eighth. Mrs. Helen Lyman of Oakland, will give a talk on "The Herb Garden."

The Bird Study Group is again meeting every Tuesday morning. Those wishing to attend should get in touch with the leader, Mr. Laidlaw Williams.

LIBRARY HAS LATEST BOOKS

Probably no other town the size of Carmel has a library that gives service in any way comparable to the Ralph Henry Harrison Memorial Library. There one may find periodicals representative of the best thought of the day, as well as the latest fiction and non-fiction. Following is a list of recent books added to the shelves:

NON-FICTION

OH, FOR THE LIFE

OF A FIRE LADDIE

The Northern California Fire Chiefs' club met Thursday, Friday and Saturday in Sacramento and the local boys came home enthusiastic over the courtesies shown them.

One of the highlights of the session was an address by Governor Merriam at a luncheon on Friday. Berkeley's city manager, Hollis Thompson, also spoke at the luncheon and again at the afternoon meeting of the same day.

A most instructive feature was the demonstration of the fighting of fires where natural gas is involved. This was given Saturday by the Pacific Gas and Electric Company and much appreciated by the firemen.

Friday night Max Baer was master of ceremonies at a dinner dance given for the visitors at the luxurious Club Shalimar. Max was made an honorary fire chief of California by State Fire Marshal J. Stevens.

Those attending from Carmel were Fire Chief Leidig, Captain Paul Mercurio, Ernie Perkins and Martini Leidig. Chief Roy Wright of Pacific Grove also drove up with the Carmel group.

SPRING ACTIVITY AT

CURTIS' CANDY STORE

Even if there were no other signs, Carmel would know the seasons by Delos Curtis' kitchen capers. He's still making horehound drops for those "spring" colds, but at the same time he has his eye on the happier times ahead. If there is a stranger in our midst who hasn't yet tasted any of the many delicious confections made by Delos Curtis, he has a treat in store for him. Chocolate creams, chews, pecan rolls—all of these and more he creates. And creates is the right word. If there's a chocolate-covered mint anywhere that can even approach his, the Sun taster will gladly eat it.

Word reached Robert Overly of the death Wednesday of Perry Brown, father of Mrs. Overly, while the latter and her small son, Charles, speeded on their way to the family home in Portland.

Giants and Pilots Win

By DOC STANFORD

St. Patrick's day, March 17, 1935—Baseball games were played and of course they had to have umpires.—Well, what of it! Umpires may come and go, but bull goes on forever.—Winsor Josselyn is now paged! The first game, God bless us all—the Giants won a game! The Pilots, poor souls, got knocked for the well-known loop to the tune of 10 to 4. In answer to the dean of sports writers of this well known district—of course I hope you will know I mean Winsor Josselyn and Winsor—I still say we have the best umpires—not only on the peninsula but the whole U. S. A.—God help Judge Landis if he ever reads this! But I should worry!

The second game was won by the Shamrocks, 6 to 2—from the Blues. Well, the umpires, especially "Doc" Stanford behind the plate, certainly stood by his patron "Saint" St. Patrick. Too bad he likes green for color—but my God, when you see red you get mad! Just remember—one thing we want is good sportsmanship in the league—nothing else matters. I hope some ginks get that!!!!

TOURING IRELAND

Seamus MacManus would be the most perfect guide to Ireland, as all who heard his enchanting talk at the Denny-Watrous Gallery last Friday will admit. He proposes to take on a personally conducted tour of Ireland next summer a selected group of people, for whose benefit he will use his amazing stock of knowledge of Irish history and tradition. Any one interested in so unusual an opportunity can secure Mr. MacManus' address from Miss Dene Denny, at the Gallery.

Noel Sullivan had as his guest last week, the famous tenor, Roland Hayes, who enjoyed a rest here before his San Francisco concert to be given this week.

The SUN GARDEN NOOK

By MRS. F. AUSTIN PHILLIPS

Mrs. Phillips writes regularly for the Sun and will gladly answer through our columns any questions addressed to her at the office of the Carmel Sun.

Never set out plants of any kind in the morning of sunny days, unless you provide shade. Nothing is more trying to newly-transplanted seedlings than the merciless rays of a warm summer sun. After 6 p. m. is the best time, and preferably after a shower. Lack of moisture in the soil should always be remedied by prompt irrigation.

The harder the plants you desire to raise, the earlier the seeds may be sown.

A principle to be borne in mind in planting is that the larger and taller the plants the more security the seeds should be sown. When plants are rooted deeply, they grow more firmly. Generally speaking, seeds should not be covered any deeper than is necessary to keep them in place.

Plants can get along for an amazing length of time without water if the moisture within the soil is preserved by frequent cultivation. Cultivation creates a dust known as dust mulch which helps tremendously to hold moisture.

The garden should have a thorough soaking at least once a week. Soaking in this way trains the roots to go down for moisture. Sprinkling, carelessly, even though it is done often, is harmful, as the roots go up for moisture and shallow rooting is developed.

Most flowers are spoiled by having water turned on the plant rather than the soil. There are a few leafy plants which crave water on their leaves but these are so few in number, it is hardly worth mentioning them. Some gardeners dig small trenches around each plant, these trenches are then flooded. This method is highly recommended.

Insects are divided into two classes, briefly speaking. Those that chew the leaves and those that suck the juices of the plant. Determine the type and make your plans accordingly. You will find numerous remedies for these two types of pests, on the market. Arsenate of lead and Paris green are two well known poisons used to counteract the leaf-chewing insects. The others may be treated with various nicotine preparations and other insecticides. Consult your local garden supply house. I should like to suggest that all directions on these preparations should be carried out most carefully.

Hardly perennials will sometimes yield a second crop of flowers if the first stalks are removed before the flowers begin to fade. Pruning is most important. Few roses are pruned severely enough. All flowering trees and shrubs should be pruned shortly after blooming. A good rule for the amateur gardener to remember is never to plant the same things twice in the same row. This is one way of keeping the garden in a healthy state with the least trouble and expense. Where fertility is maintained this rule may occasionally be disregarded. If you notice, farmers seldom plant the same crops twice in succession.

Beds for cut flowers are becoming more popular each season. These flowers are raised for the purpose of providing cut flowers for house decoration. The separate cutting garden is usually in some secluded spot, where widespread removal of blooms will not mar the garden picture. Such a garden is laid out neatly with narrow beds and straight rows, which are easy to cultivate and handy to cut. No attempt at artistic arrangement is called for. This is a grand way to have plenty of blooms when they are wanted.

Soil, especially on this peninsula, should be analyzed by an expert before treating it. The various state experiment stations will do this analyzing free or for a small charge. With this information at hand, you will, of course, only add the elements which are lacking. This is the only intelligent way of knowing what to do. Too much plant food is almost as bad as not enough. Many plants bloom best when they are a little hungry.

A top dressing of some quick-acting fertilizer is suggested for perennials when coming into bud. This extra food repays us in larger and more perfect flowers.

When planting a new garden, a worth while suggestion to be remembered, is in applying stable fertilizer, cover with soil, then plant in the regular way. This preparation is more effective the second year. The roots go down, making strong, healthy root systems.

Acid soil for growing plants belonging to the Heath family may be artificially prepared by mixing commercial peat into your alkaline soil. Oak leaf mould is very good, too.

GARDEN NOTES

For sunny, sandy locations, try planting, Agrostemma, Dusty Miller, Common Thrift, Hardy Aster, Eryngium, Hibiscus, Moss Pink and Goldenrod.

Day lilies, also the Regal lily (the easiest of all lilies to grow) may be grown most successfully from seeds. Lilies should not be moved. Plant them where you want them to stay.

This is the time to plant your

Gladiolus, Gloxinia, Tigridia, Tuberos Begonia, yellow Calla and Dahlia bulbs.

Carmel Valley.

CARMEL VALLEY

Mr. and Mrs. Arch Matney and son, Gerald, spent the week-end in Paso Robles visiting friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Meadows entertained at dinner Sunday in honor of Mrs. Meadows' mother, Mrs. D. W. Beverton, who celebrated her 83rd birthday. Table decorations were carried out in green for St. Patrick's day. Also present were Mrs. D. W. Beverton and Mrs. E. B. Martin of Alameda, Mrs. Meadows' sister.

Jack Martin motored down from Berkeley Sunday to be with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Martin. Jack is a student at the University of California.

Mrs. J. H. Stewart entertained the members of the 4-H club at dinner Friday night, March 15. After dinner the club held a business meeting which was followed by games and a social evening.

Miss Elaine Larson of Carmel spent the week-end as the guest of Eunice Scariett.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lang and family of Pacific Grove were the week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ora Vasquez.

The St. Patrick's dance held at the Carmel Valley hall Saturday night, March 16, proved to be a very successful one. The hall was appropriately decorated for the occasion and a large crowd enjoyed the affair. Music was by Allen Knight's orchestra.

Mrs. Andrew Stewart entertained at a surprise birthday luncheon Saturday in honor of her daughter, Mary. After luncheon the girls spent a social afternoon. Present to wish Mary a happy birthday were the Misses Jerry Thienes, Margaret Clink, Shirley Stoddard, Estelle Mack, Jean Elaine Funchess, Mary Poulos and Lucille Dorsey.

Jay Livesay of San Francisco has now gone to Los Angeles, where he is singing with the Cliff Dwellers. Jay formerly made his home in the Valley and has many friends here.

The furniture manufacturers lately held a convention. Their principal debate was on the advisability of placing smaller casters or sliders on furniture—both of which are ruinous to carpets and rugs, thus increasing the sale of each.

BudapestStringQuartet

The last concert of the season for the Carmel Music Society will be played by the Budapest String Quartet in the Sunset School Auditorium next Saturday, March 23rd. This will be an event of great importance in the musical world for, of all forms of presentation, perhaps string quartet is the favorite among discriminating music-lovers.

This famous quartet was founded in war time and has now a period of ten years of successful work behind it. All through Europe, the Dutch Indies and America, it has blazed a trail of glory. The press everywhere has accorded it the highest acclaim. Goddard Lieberman of the Rochester Evening Journal says, "Never, in my experience, have I heard such a complete coalescence of four different instruments into a single pure tone. Never have I heard such exalted ensemble playing, reaching the heights of musical artistry through immaculate performance and co-ordinate interpretation."

This characteristic of perfect oneness is undoubtedly of primary importance in all ensemble work, and perhaps the most difficult to acquire. In the case of the Budapest String Quartet the possession of faultless instruments, chosen for their absolute harmony of tone, makes it possible to attain this excellence to an unusual degree. Added to this, the fact that each member of the quartet is a distinguished musician in his own right, assures every audience of an unforgettable experience. It has

Personal Mention

Wade Etter has returned from Oakland, where he was called by the illness of his sister.

Gussie Meyer and Ann Nelson attended a joint dinner given at the St. George Hotel in Santa Cruz Tuesday night, by the Soroptimists and the Business and Professional Women. The speaker of the evening was Elsie Cushing, prominent attorney from Oakland, who spoke on legislation affecting women.

Mrs. F. N. Levens, Mrs. H. F. Flick, and Mrs. W. A. Spill, all of whom make their home at the Parkway hotel, in Los Angeles, were in Carmel at the La Ribera last week.

Seeing California are Miss Harriet Abbe, of Litchfield, Conn., and Mrs. L. Reese, of Dedham, Mass. While in Carmel last week they were registered at the La Ribera Hotel.

The La Ribera Hotel was the scene of an exclusive fashion show Tuesday, when Mrs. V. Curzon and her model, Grace de Hear, showed smart gowns from Volette, 278 Post street, San Francisco. In Mrs. Curzon's party at the La Ribera were also Mrs. John Cole and Mrs. J. Wilhoit.

Mrs. Helen Vye and Miss Edith Smythe were in San Francisco over the week-end.

Guests at the La Ribera this week-end included Miss Cieson, Mrs. A'burn, Mrs. H. Mitchell and Mrs. Bernes, all of San Francisco.

Captain and Mrs. Pat Hudgins left last week for a visit in Arizona. En route they will stop in Palm Springs for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. John Phelps Deal, recently married in Mill Valley, were at the La Ribera for several days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Clark were here from Piedmont Saturday and Sunday. They have many friends in Carmel.

Guests at the La Ribera this week-end included Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Booth of San Francisco. Mr. Booth is assistant auditor for the Pacific Gas and Electric company.

Miss Ellen O'Sullivan entertained at dinner Friday night in honor of Seamus McManus, Irish poet and story-teller. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Robinson Jeffers, Mrs. Jesse Lynch Williams and Mrs. Valentine Mott Potter. That evening, Mrs. Potter introduced Mr. McManus to his audience at the Denny-Watrous Gallery.

Gussie Meyer and Ann Nelson drove to San Francisco and Berkeley yesterday. Miss Meyer will return today.

Gussie Meyer drove to San Francisco Monday, returning the same day. She was accompanied by Ann Nelson, who remained to spend a fortnight in the Bay district.

Californians are always happy to show their eastern friends the glories of California. Here for the purpose last week were Mrs. I. G. Lockman and Mrs. H. W. Ketron, of Piedmont, the friends in tow being Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Burr of Hinsdale, Ill. The party was registered at the La Ribera.

You who always find time to be a Friend...

You never forget other people's anniversaries. You do not spare yourself in church or committee work, in parent-teacher responsibilities, in service to friends who are ill.

With the telephone—how simple to make appointments and prevent delays! By telephone—how readily you reach people!

Friends wonder how you get so many things done. Your telephone knows!
